The foreign currency trading you are entering into is not conducted on any exchange. Alpari (US), LLC (“Alpari”) is acting as a counterparty in these transactions and, therefore, acts as the buyer when you sell and the seller when you buy. As a result, Alpari’s interests may be in conflict with yours. Unless otherwise specified in your written agreement or other written documents Alpari establishes the prices at which it offers to trade with you. The prices Alpari offers might not be the best prices available and Alpari may offer different prices to different customers.

If Alpari elects not to cover its own trading exposure, then you should be aware that Alpari may make more money if the market goes against you. Additionally, since Alpari acts as the buyer or seller in the transaction, you should carefully evaluate any trade recommendations you receive from Alpari or any of its solicitors.
